Marketing Director at Canadian Chamber

Warren has created something very special with Leaders Create Leaders (LCL). With LCL, he has brought together a group of very different people of very diverse backgrounds that naturally evolved into a closely-knit, supportive, and egalitarian community through the shared experience of the LCL program. The focus on coaching, particularly within the community, is what makes LCL so sustainable and effective – the growth and potential of the community and its members becomes self-perpetuating. It takes a motivated, insightful, and extremely capable person to create LCL. All of this is to say that Warren is an inspirational leader who has already had a significant impact on many of the professionals that are driving industry and growth in Vietnam and Southeast Asia.

Warren was a great facilitator to facilitate our strategic thinking and planning a two-day workshop. The course was very excited and inspired, thus delivers a very beauty value of “the power of synergy” to pursue a self and team journey. Warren’s excellent skill of presentation, sensitivity in observation and effective leading had bonded the mix-level and mix-culture participants to the strategic contributions. It is a valuable workshop and highly recommended course.

 Huy Nguyen, ACCA, CPTA Tax Manager at Grant Thornton (Vietnam) Limited	Presentation may be about delivering your speech, your ideas and images to the audience. However, presentation can be the combinations between Arts, Sciences, Delivering Skills, of course, it needs to be supplemented with your efforts of practicing and preparation with different techniques adopted for each topics/type of audience, etc. My above definition about presentation was defined when I was received the sharing and discussion from Warren. I had the chance to participate to Warren's Inspirational Leadership training on 30 and 31 May 2018. I felt refreshed after these 2 days. It brought clarity, matching issues and solutions I had experienced at work with precise words. It helped me pause and look with more distance to my everyday routine. Plus I enjoyed these moments of meeting and sharing. Warren has a natural talent to get a group to work and progress together.

Hang Nguyen

Freelance Pharmaceutical/Healthcare Marketing Consultant at MySelf

I was impressed by Warren's abilities to get into people's thoughts and finding the root behind the matter. This is very helpful to get into a mutual agreement on coaching goals and coaching process. Having achieved coaching success, I feel autonomy support, satisfied with each session and most importantly, a strong focus on my goals. These skills often take years to develop, but it seems to come perfectly naturally to Warren. I admired Warren's ability to command a room and get people on board with ideas even with senior people and on completely different pages. No matter how tense a workshop, Warren made sure everybody left with a smile. As a leader, a teacher, a coach. Warren earns my highest recommendation. Cheers!

We met at the Inspirational Leadership Training which was held on 30th & 31st May 2018, undergoing two days of mind-opening self-exploration. Warren's training prompts critical thinking and has given me a clearer understanding of our sub-conscious actions that could affect our quality of being great leaders. Identifying the 6 human needs, purpose statements and speed coaching was the few highlights of the training that I have found beneficial. Warren is very engaging and I recommend this training to those who desire to be a greater leader.
